This from Walden's Great Niece.

Right before a Pageant the neighborhood held for WW 1.

Her Dad was a newspaper man in Boston. She was the first female reporter allowed to write in it.

Arthur's Dad was an Episcopal minister in Boston. They first met there.

She came to Wonalancet to run the Inn.

He helped her build the second floor onto an older farmhouse. He proposed and she was reluctant, as she was years older and knew she would probably not have children. He went to Alaska looking for gold and adventures and asked her again upon his return, with sled dogs in tow.

This time she said yes
